

Cultivating and Growing Our Most Important Resource

We're building a company we can all be proud of, where purpose-driven people work to make real, honest change in the world. We're creators, builders, doers and believers who shake up the world in ways big and small. We provide our employees with what they need to be well-rounded people both at work and in their personal lives. Being the best we can starts with helping our people be their own best selves. We believe that an empowering environment at work is just as important as a healthy, happy life at home.

As part of this purpose, WhiteWave is proud to support our internal Employee Resource Groups that exemplify our spirit of activism and community. One of the founding Employee Resource groups at WhiteWave is Pride, representing WhiteWave's LGBT (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender) community. Pride promotes a welcoming, inclusive atmosphere, and supports our fellow colleagues while building a more educated community.

Throughout the year, Pride volunteers at Urban Peak, a homeless shelter in Downtown Denver. The Pride group encourages all employees to become more involved in their communities and is focused on overall personal growth and education of LGBT. Pride truly embodies our values in action at WhiteWave and is one of the many ways we are creating a better future.
