

Better Packaging:

Finding innovative solutions

When it comes to our packaging, we are focused on increasing the use of recycled content and renewable resources because we know that cultivating a responsible food system goes beyond our ingredients.

Our Earthbound Farm, Vega, Alpro and Horizon brands have all made great strides in this area:

- Earthbound Farm is an industry leader in its use of 100 percent post-consumer recycled (PCR) plastic for its clamshell packaging.
- Since 2012, Vega's containers have been made from 96 percent PCR content plastic and are fully recyclable.
- Alpro sources virgin wood and paper fiber for its gable top cartons from Forest Stewardship Council certified suppliers.
- Many Horizon cracker, snack and macaroni and cheese boxes are made from 100 percent Recycled Paperboard Alliance certified paperboard boxes.

We will continue to look for opportunities to integrate more sustainable materials into our packaging and do even better in this area in the future. It's just part of our overall promise to produce food responsibly.
